CHRONICLES OF THE SCHONBERG-COTTA FAMILY

Over 100,000 copies have been sold in this country alone.

A Cheap Edition Now Ready. 150 Pages 4to. 25 Cents.

The author has reproduced the times of the Reformation with such remarkable success that it is difficult to realize that we are not actually hearing Luther and those around him speak. We seem to be personal actors in the stirring scenes of that eventful period. One branch of the Cotta family were Luther's earliest and most intimate friends. The members of this family record in those pages their daily experiences as connected with the Reformation era, and the reader is brought face to face with the great ideas and facts associated with Luther and the men of his time.

1 vol., 12mo, cloth, 550 pages, $1; or 4to, paper covers, 25 cents.

WATCHWORDS FOR THE WARFARE OF LIFE.

Selected from the writings of Martin Luther, chiefly from his Table-Talk. By the author of the "Schonberg-Cotta Family." 12mo, cloth, $1.

A NATIONAL NOVEL.

HIS SOMBRE RIVALS,

By E. P. ROE,

"Is really entitled to be considered a national novel. It deals with the stirring events of the civil war. The description of the battle of Bull Run is the finest piece of descriptive writing we have read for a long time."—Boston Commonwealth.

FIRST EDITION, 25,000 COPIES. SECOND EDITION ON THE PRESS.

"E. P. Roe is master of a thrilling style. His books take hold of one. 'His Sombre Rivals' is, in some respects, his best. The characters are real flesh and blood, and they stand out very distinctly before us."—Golden Rule.

1 vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

HAVE NOW READY:

THE CHEAPEST AND BEST.

This is the only Authorized American Edition, and contains all the Original Illustrations and fac-similes.

The Life of Luther.

BY JULIUS KÖSTLIN, PROFESSOR IN THE UNIVERSITY OF HALLE. WITH MORE THAN 60 ILLUSTRATIONS FROM ORIGINAL PORTRAITS AND DOCUMENTS. 1 vol., 8vo, $2.50.

Professor Köstlin is the acknowledged authority upon everything relating to the life and times of Luther. His great work, published several years ago, has taken its place as the classic Lutheran history, and every book relating to Luther or the Reformation published since its appearance has been largely indebted to its pages. The volume announced above has been recently prepared with a view to the present renewed interest in the great Reformer. This biography, in addition to its being the most accurate and readable history of Luther and the Reformation ever published, has special claims to notice in the beautiful and unique portraits of Luther and of most of the prominent characters associated in any way with the Reformation.

A special feature is the reproduction in fac-simile of various documents of the highest interest, such as one of Pope Leo's indulgences, a page of Luther's Latin Psalter, with his marginal and interlinear notes, a letter of Luther to his wife, the first page of the first edition of his translation of the New Testament, the concluding part of his will, with the signatures of Melancthon and others, etc. In addition, there are numerous engravings of places and objects connected with Luther's memory that give this book greater interest and completeness than any other biography of Luther could ever lay claim to.

This American edition is published with the special sanction of the author.

Music in England.

BY DR. FREDERIC LOUIS RITTER, PROFESSOR OF MUSIC AND DIRECTOR OF THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC AT VASSAR COLLEGE. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

Music in America.

BY DR. FREDERIC LOUIS RITTER, PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, ETC., AT VASSAR COLLEGE. 1 vol., 12mo, $2.

Professor Ritter's position and authority, both among musicians and in musical literature, to which he has already contributed a series of historical lectures widely known and read on both sides of the Atlantic, eminently fitted him for what he has accomplished in these volumes—the writing of the history of music among the English-speaking race. Especially in the volume upon America, there is the interest and value of a story told for the first time and from the most ample and thoroughly sifted material. The history of church music, of musical societies, of the opera, and of the progress of every department of musical growth in this country is given. The companion book fills a want in the literature of the subject which music students have long desired to see supplied.

A NEW COLLECTION OF ENGLISH POETRY.

English Verse.

EDITED BY W. J. LINTON AND R. H. STODDARD. A series of five small volumes, 12mo, about 350 pages. $1 each.

III. BALLADS AND ROMANCES. IV. DRAMATIC SCENES AND CHARACTERS.
V. TRANSLATIONS.

Already Published: I. CHAUCER TO BURNS. II. LYRICS OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

The volumes are sold separately, or in sets. Five volumes in a box, $5.

"W. J. Linton and R. H. Stoddard are making the most notable encyclopædia of poetry in the language, if we may judge from the beginning of their series. Mr. Linton is the most accurate of editors, and it is cause for rejoicing that his love for literature has led him into work which will exercise so good an influence in important literary fields. Each volume, moreover, contains an essay by Mr. Stoddard on the character and growth of English poetry during the period which it includes. The selections, too, are made with remarkable success. The volumes are prettily bound and printed; the letter-press is clear, while the price is marvellously low."—Boston Courier.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LEE & SHEPARD have just ready "What Shall we Do with our Daughters?" by Mary A. Livermore, a very readable and enjoyable volume, abounding in hints and suggestions of practical value; also "The Tinkham Brothers' Tide Mill," by J. T. Trowbridge, an intensely interesting story for boys.

S. E. CASSINO & Co. have ready this week a new edition of Sir J. Gardner Wilkinson's "Manners and Customs of the Ancient Egypt-tians," revised and corrected by Dr. Samuel Birch. The work is published in three handsome octavo volumes, with over 1000 illustrations, including 9 colored and 78 full-page plates, and is an exact reproduction of the English edition, which commands double the price of this beautiful American edition.

ROBERTS BROTHERS have just published "Donald and Dorothy," by Mary Mapes Dodge, written in this charming author's brightest style, and full of fine illustrations; "Maria Edgeworth," by Helen Zimmern (in the Famous Women series), which promises to be interesting from the fact that the author has had access to a large number of private letters, and to an unpublished memoir written by Miss Edgeworth's step-mother; also, "Samuel Sharpe," a biography of the celebrated Egyptologist and translator of the Bible, by P. W. Clayden. In their pretty Classic series they have just issued Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" and "Robinson Crusoe."

JAMES R. OSGOOD & Co. issue this week "Guenn: a Wave on the Breton Coast," by Blanche Willis Howard, a tale of love and art, in which are interwoven some vivid and graphic descriptions of the picturesque scenery and quaint people of that land of romance—Brittany; and "Woods and Lakes of Maine, a Trip from Moosehead Lake to New Brunswick in a Birchbark Canoe," by L. L. Hubbard, with original illustrations by Will L. Taylor, and an appendix of some Indian place-names, which makes a practical and standard work for those who are or wish to become interested in the great northern park-region of New England. They have also ready William Winter's latest volume, entitled "English Rambles and other Fugitive Pieces in Prose and Verse," a collection of Mr. Winter's later writings including his very choice English letters, his essays on Longfellow and several notable poems.

CHARLES SCRIBNER & SONS publish this week "The Life of Luther," by Prof. Julius Köstlin, which is claimed to be the most accurate and readable history of the Reformer and the Reformation ever published. This edition is handsomely gotten up, and contains all the original illustrations and fac similes. A special feature is the reproduction in fac-simile of various documents of the highest interest, such as one of Pope Leo's indulgences, a page of Luther's Latin Psalter, with his marginal and interlinear notes, a letter of Luther to his wife, the first page of the first edition of his translation of the New Testament, the concluding part of his will with the signatures of Melancthon and others, etc. In addition, there are numerous engravings of places and objects connected with Luther's memory. They have also ready "Music in England," and "Music in America," by Prof. Frederic Louis Ritter, of Vassar. Professor Ritter's position and authority, both among musicians and in musical literature, eminently fitted him for the writing of the history of music among the English-speaking race. Especially in the volume upon America, there is the interest and value of a story told for the first time and from the most ample and thoroughly sifted material. The history of church music, of musical societies, of the opera, and of the progress of every department of musical growth in this country is given. Aldrich, T. Bailey. Mercedes, and later lyrics. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1884 [1883]. 111 p. O. cl., $1.25.

"Mercedes, and later lyrics" is the title of one of the prettiest of volumes. It consists of a play and a number of poems by Mr. T. B. Aldrich. The former is founded upon an incident related in the memoirs of the Duchess d'Abrantès. Out of this Mr. Aldrich has made an admirable little two-act drama, of which the language is crisp and pointed, and the interest cumulative and well sustained. . . . The lyrics that make the rest of the volume are distinguished by the refined taste, the polish and the dainty delicacy of fancy and imagination that are the characteristics of all of Mr. Aldrich's verse. The book is beautifully printed, and is almost as pleasant to look at and to handle as it is to read."—Boston Advertiser.

Greedy, E. The bear-worshippers of Yezo, and the island of Karafuto (Saghalin); or, the adventures of the Jewett family and their friend Oto Nambo; il. by Rinzo and Ichiske Hamada: cover designed by the author. Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1884 [1883]. 10+304 p. O. bds., $1.75; cl., $2.50.

The same characters that the young people made acquaintance with in "The wonderful city of Tokio," and "Young Americans in Japan" will be found in this narrative of that remarkable species of men known as "Bear-worshippers," and dwelling principally in Yezo, an island formerly belonging to Japan, and ceded to Russia in 1875. Mr. Greedy visited these people first in 1853 and again last year, so his facts have all been obtained at first hand.

Green, Anna Katherine. Hand and ring. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1883. 5+608 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The author of "The Leavenworth case" offers in "Hand and ring" a new novel of the detective class which fully sustains the reputation gained in her first books. A murder committed in broad daylight in a little house on a thoroughfare in a country town is the motive; suspicion seems to be fastened in the most conclusive manner upon three people in succession, a fourth being most unexpectedly brought forward as the criminal. Miss Green works up her plots in the most ingenious and plausible manner; they have a thrilling interest worthy of Gaboriau.

Grey, Heraclitus. King Gab's story bag, and the wonderful stories it contained. N. Y., Cassell & Co., [1883]. 4+206 p. il. D. bds., 75 c.; cl., $1.25.

Contains 36 full-page illustrations from Doré's original designs for the Bible. These with Hope Ledyard's attractive text make the book a more than ordinarily attractive one for young people.

Hawthorne, Julian. Fortune's fool. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1883. 12+470 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The fool of fortune, Jack Vivian, is first introduced to the reader as a nameless, neglected boy, living in a half-savage state of isolation in a New England village of half a century ago; he is supposed to be the illegitimate child of a beautiful French girl, who died in giving birth to him. It turns out that he is the heir to an English estate and title, which he only gains possession of after many struggles and adventures. While a mere self-taught Bohemian, wandering the world at his own sweet will, the young hero does not know a care, but once he becomes Baron Castlemere and the central figure of London drawing-rooms his happiness deserts him; he is thus "fortune's fool." We have given but a mere outline of the story. It is a strange medley of characters and adventures; among the many incidents are some four or five murders or violent deaths. Has been running in Macmillan's Magazine.

Phelps, Elizabeth Stuart. Beyond the gates. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 16+196 p. D. cl., $1.25.

While in a trance, the heroine of this story is represented as passing into the unknown world; she minutely describes the occupations, experiences, hopes and joys of the dwellers in heaven; old friends are met and couples reunited, and famous men and women use their gifts for the pleasure of all. It will be seen it is a material heaven, in which we pursue, in an idealized shape, our former pursuits. The little book will no doubt afford much consolation to bereaved ones and to the many seeking to penetrate the mystery of the hereafter.

This novel has been one of the features of Lippincott's Magazine during the present year. It is by the author of "Signor Monaldini's niece." Like that story it is a romance of Italy—the Italy of to-day—in which Miss Tincker has lived for several years, and whose picturesque characters and salient social and political features she so graphically describes. The story is a love tale of many incidents, in which the good are rewarded and the wicked punished in orthodox style. Novel-readers will be charmed with its varied and romantic interests.

MISS SYDNEY LEVER, a daughter of the late Charles Lever, proposes to publish a volume of poems to be entitled "Fireflies."

ROSSITER JOHNSON has assumed the editorship of "Appletons' Annual Encyclopædia," succeeding in this position the late Judge Tenny.

MR. W. CLARK RUSSELL has nearly ready for publication a collection of sea-terms and their definitions, entitled "Sailors' Language."

AUSTIN DOBSON is not only to make a collection of selected poems from his "Cameos" and "Proverbs in Porcelain," which are both out of print, but he is about to publish a volume of verse which he has written since the publication of those volumes, and which is to have a happy title, "At the Sign of the Lyre."

The Publishers' Weekly.

NOVEMBER 24, 1883.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries" gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

INTERNATIONAL COPYRIGHT.

THE ANTHONY TROLLOPE CHARGE.

Elzevir in the Boston Herald, Oct. 8.

In his very entertaining autobiography Mr. Anthony Trollope has a good deal to say on the vexed question of international copyright, as most English authors have. "I cannot say," he writes, "that I have never had a shilling of American money on behalf of reprints of my work—but I have been conscious of no such payment. Having found many years ago—in 1861, when I made a struggle on the subject, being then in the States, the details of which are sufficiently amusing—that I could not myself succeed in dealing with American booksellers, I have sold all foreign right to the English publishers; and, though I do not know that I have raised my price against them on that score, I may in this way have had some indirect advantage from the American market. But I do know that what the publishers have received here is very trifling. I doubt whether Messrs. Chapman & Hall, my present publishers, get for early sheets sent to the States as much as five per cent on the price they pay me for my manuscript."

I have taken the trouble to inquire into this statement of Mr. Trollope's, and I find it about as wide of the mark as are most statements on the subject. Being in the neighborhood of the Messrs. Appletons' establishment and remembering that Trollope's "Ralph the Heir" ran through the pages of the regretted Journal, I went in and asked Mr. Bunce, who was editor of the Journal, whether he had paid Mr. Trollope for his story. "We didn't pay Trollope himself," said Mr. Bunce, "but we paid his publisher, Virtue, to whom he had sold all interest, $1500 for the right of publication, which we ran as a serial through the Journal and afterward sold to Harper & Bros., who published it in book-form." This does not seem to me to be very bad pay for a right that was only one of courtesy. My next step was to Franklin Square to see what the Messrs. Harper had to say. Being the publishers of Mr. Trollope's autobiography, they had of course seen the paragraph to which I alluded, and this was their answer: "We have paid over £3000 to Mr. Anthony Trollope or to his publishers for his books republished by us, including £750 for one book." If Mr. Trollope received no money for the American publication of his books it was not because no such money was paid. His publishers got it, and if they bought all rights from him it seems to me that they were the people to be paid. In all they received $16,500 from two American publishers, which I should think was more than five per cent on the price they paid for the manuscripts. English authors are very pig-headed on this question of payment. They sell all rights to their English publishers, and he then, being absolute owner of their manuscript, negotiates with an American publisher who pays him what is a fair sum considering the circumstances. But this does not satisfy the irate author, who wants another sum paid to him. He must have a very strange idea of the way business is conducted. English publishers may pay two persons for one book, but it is a trick that has never been told of them.

"LEYPOLDT'S LITTLE HOLIDAY BOOK."

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

MR. LEYPOLDT'S little holiday book of some thousands of pages and weighing some pounds—The Publishers' Trade List Annual of 1883—has appeared and looms, not lies, before us. It must be a treasure to every one connected with the book-trade, and though we cannot recommend it as a handy volume for the vest-pocket, we can assert that, so far as we have been able to discover from a somewhat cursory perusal, its moral tone is pure. Still it cannot be safely put into the hands of children. Only persons who are physically strong can venture to grasp it and to grapple for the grand things hidden in its mysterious profundities.

From the Hartford Post.

MR. LEYPOLDT'S publication is indispensable to booksellers, librarians and owners of private libraries. A publishers' trade list has a dreary mechanical side in its appearance, but there is more of life and significance behind its types than in any other one book, save, perhaps, an unabridged dictionary, and it might well dispute the palm with that. Mr. Leyboldt's annual shows his most excellent judgment in arrangement and worthily maintains the precession.

From the Brooklyn Times.

FOR eleven years Mr. Leyboldt has issued from the office of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, a bulky annual volume embracing between its covers all available information respecting the constantly-increasing list of American publications. As a "trade-help" it is of course indispensable to booksellers, but it is of practical value as well to the larger class of bookbuyers, both as a reference volume and a finding list. The volume for 1883, just issued, is a large octavo of over 2500 pages and contains, besides the catalogues of American publishers, alphabetically arranged, a complete record, with full title, of all books published from July, 1882, to July, 1883. An index accompanies this list, by which every book on record can be found whether looked for under author, title, or subject. Any one who is a purchaser of books, whether for private use, for school or Sunday-school libraries, or whatever purpose will find this volume the best possible means of keeping up with the publications of each year. Booksellers and book-buyers as well, are under constant obligation to the indefatigable editor of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for valuable aids toward a better understanding of the book-trade and for better methods of reference and selection, and this annual volume should be more widely known and used outside the trade limits to which it has been heretofore confined.

OBITUARY.

EDMUND HARRISON.

EDMUND HARRISON, salesman and traveller for J. B. Lippincott & Co., died suddenly on the morning of the 15th inst., at his home in Philadelphia. He was born near Petersburg, Va., October, 1844. While completing his education at the University of Virginia, he, with all the members of his class, entered the army at the breaking out of the Civil War. He served in Pickett's Division during the whole war, and was among those who surrendered with Lee at Appomattox Court House. After the war he entered the book-store of Wilkins & Barbour, of Petersburg, and remained with them until the early part of the year 1868, when he went to Philadelphia and accepted the position which he filled at the time of his death.

Mr. Harrison was well known and highly respected by the trade in the South and West, where he was accustomed to travel, and his genial and gentlemanly manner brought him a host of friends at home and among the trade wherever he went. He leaves a wife and one child.

DR. ROBERT D. JOYCE, for many years a resident of Boston, died in Dublin, Ireland, on October 23, of lung disease. Dr. Joyce was best known to the literary world through his poems "Blamid" and "Deirdre," published in the No Name series. He was a graduate of Dublin University.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Continent will be published hereafter in New York.

W. M. GRISWOLD is engaged on a thorough index to The Monograph, Nos. 1 to 50.

AN excellent portrait of Mr. Whittier will accompany Mr. Spofford's picturesque article on the poet in the January Harper.

The Wheelman has combined with Outing, and Outing and The Wheelman, the name of the new magazine, will cover the entire field of out-door recreations and travel.

MADAME VON GLUMER—formerly Señora Oviedo and the heroine of Mr. Stedman's poem, "The Diamond Wedding"—has written for The Manhattan a sketch of experiences in Mexico.

The United States Stationer, Printer, and Fancy Goods Reporter, we take pleasure in noting, has come down to reasonable proportions, and with its issue for November 15, makes its appearance as a small quarto instead of a folio. The topography throughout is neat and the information full and to the point.

Building, the architectural monthly published by W. T. Comstock, N. Y., began its second volume with the October number. That issue made its appearance with a large number of full-page plates and other improvements. It is not often that so much and such valuable material is found at one time in a trade journal.

A PORTRAIT of Peter Cooper is the frontispiece of the December Century. Mrs. Susan N. Carter, the head of the Woman's Art School of the Cooper Institute, who knows fully Mr. Cooper's ideas and aims in assisting young women to earn their living by skilled occupations, has written an anecdotal paper which accompanies the portrait.

THE current issue of Swinton's Story-Teller contains features that make it specially attractive as a Thanksgiving number. It presents a full-page frontispiece by Alfred Fredericks illustrative of Hawthorne's beautiful tale of "John Inglesfield's Thanksgiving;" a characteristic original story by Harriet Prescott Spofford, entitled "Something to be Thankful for;" and an original tale by Ella Wheeler, called "John Smith, or, Two Thanksgivings."

Scandinavia is the title of a new monthly journal the first number of which is dated November. It will aim to be an organ for the men of North-European birth; will deal with their mythology, history, literature, religion, science, art, etc.; will deal especially with that element of our national history, and endeavor to make itself, in every legitimate way useful and indispensable to them. It is printed in English in fine form, and issued from 26 North Clark Street, Chicago, at $2 a year, or 20 cents a number.

IN The Independent of November 15, is begun a series of articles by the eminent Hindoo reformer, Keshub Chunder, Sen., upon "Yoga, or the Devotional Life." The same issue contains a poem by Joaquin Miller on "Martin Luther," an article by Dr. William M. Taylor on "Giving," and a war story by Dr. Hepworth. In its current issue November 22 it prints under the title "Coppet and Madame de Staël" the first of a series of articles about European people and topics by Mary Clemmer (Mrs. Hudson), who has returned to Washington after her European trip.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—The agency of D. Appleton & Co. has removed from 5 Arch and 6 Hawley Streets to new and commodious quarters at 92 Franklin Street.

CINCINNATI, O.—Tucker, Ziegler & Co. announce that they have opened a finely appointed book and stationery business at 301 Central Avenue.

CLINTON, MASS.—Robert Orr, newsdealer, stationer, etc., has sold out to Geo. S. Gibson.

KINGSTON, N. Y.—Forsyth & Wilson will remove about January 15, 1884, to the commodious and beautiful store in the Ulster County Savings Bank building (directly opposite the Court-House), which is now being fitted up especially for them.

NEW YORK CITY.—Mr. Charles P. Somerby desires his friends to note his change of address, which is now 33 Clinton Place. Mr. Somerby has taken charge of The Truthseeker Publishing Co., but will also continue to supply his own publications.

SAN FRANCISCO CAL.—A. Waldteufel announces that in connection with his San José store he will open a book and music store at 737 Market Street, on or about December 1.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Decker & Co., booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership. Jacob J. Decker continues the business under the old style.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. HENRY MACOURT, for ten years past with E. P. Dutton & Co., has made an engagement with the New York branch of John E. Potter & Co.

MR. HENRY T. CLAUDER desires to inform his friends that he has since his retirement from business in Bethlehem, Pa., become associated with and will shortly assume an interest in the business of the Anderson School-Book Co., 66 and 68 Reade St., N. Y., which will in the future be his business address. Mr. Clauder commenced business in Bethlehem in 1868 in connection with his brother, the late A. C. Clauder, under the firm-name of A. C. & H. T. Clauder, as agents of the Moravian publication office. After the death of the senior member of the firm Mr. Clauder continued the business in his own name until August of this year, when his resignation took effect. Mr. Clauder's experience of fifteen years in business in Bethlehem, notably a school-book centre, has been such as to enable him to become a valuable assistant in the wider field he now enters upon. We understand that Mr. Clauder will continue to be a resident of Bethlehem for the present.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

G. W. CARLETON & Co. have published "Never," a burlesque on "Don't."

"DIANE CORYVAL" the next No Name novel is promised to be "a bright and fascinating picture of French life and scenery."

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in press "The Franco-American Cookery Book," by Felix Delice, caterer of the New York Club.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will reprint in a small volume J. A. Froude's articles on Luther which appeared in the Contemporary Review.

"THE PAGANS" will be the second volume in the new American Novel series published by Henry Holt & Co. It will be issued anonymously.

W. R. JENKINS will publish at once "L'Abbé Constantin." This is the second number of his new French series, Romans Choisis, which has been so well received that he has already to print the second edition of "Dosia."

IG. KOHLER, Philadelphia, has just published an American edition of Johannes Scherr's important work entitled "Germania: Zwei Jahrtausende Deutschen Lebens." The work is a most interesting survey of two thousand years of German life, and is very fully and handsomely illustrated.

L. PRANG & Co. have in press an illustrated work on the mushrooms of America, by Mr. Julius A. Palmer, Jr. It is the first of a series of charts intended to introduce the edible varieties of mushrooms, and to teach how to avoid those that are poisonous. The work will also contain directions for cooking all kinds of mushrooms.

CUPPLES, UPHAM & Co. announce in press a new novel by Sally McLean Pratt, author of "Cape Cod Folks," entitled "Some Other Folks;" also, "The Memoirs of the Rev. Charles Lowe," by his wife, Mrs. Martha Perry Lowe. The latter book will be ready during the present month.

THE Massachusetts New Church Union, Boston, will shortly issue an interesting volume of travel, by Rev. John Worcester, which will present to the reader pictures of the Holy Land in connection with scenes and incidents mentioned in the Bible. The title of the volume will be "A Journey in Palestine."

D. APPLETON & Co. have in press a second edition of the life of John Keese, that prince of book-auctioneers, and companion of men of letters. The reminiscences of this inimitable man have been widely read, and deserve a still more extended circulation. A new preface adds interest and piquancy to the volume.

SCRIBNER & WELFORD will issue an American edition of a "Hand-Book of Musical Biography," by Mr. David Baptie, which gives special attention to English composers who have in books professing the same aim been too much neglected. The volume is the result, the compiler says, of thirty or more years of study. Three thousand names are included, and among them are many American music-writers.

WILLARD SMALL, Boston, has just published a work of value to superintendents and teachers in public schools, entitled "School Management," by Joseph Langdon, of the training college, Saltley, England. It comprises a general view of the work of education, with some account of the intellectual faculties, from the teacher's point of view. It also contains hints upon organization, discipline, and moral training.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON call the attention of the trade to the fact that they have put their standard editions of Hallam, Lamb, Disraeli, Milman, Napier, Hallam, Simms, Michaud, and Poe into entirely new and attractive bindings with black and gold side and back stamps. The sale of these books, we understand, keeps up without interruption—100,000 volumes having been printed and sold since they were first issued at the reduced price.

G. W. SMALLEY, in a despatch to the Tribune, says that "The Academy, reversing the verdict of The Athenæum and The Saturday Review, declares Mr. Howells's 'A Woman's Reason' to be the only work where that author has done justice to his singular powers. Mr. Howells, it says, as an observer of his fellow-creatures stands very high, and as a student of woman is quite unrivalled. This book is an excellent and real novel, thoroughly worth reading once, twice, thrice."

D. APPLETON & Co. announce that the second volume of Professor McMaster's "History of the People of the United States" will not be published before next spring. It seems that a large part of the author's manuscript was stolen last summer while he was at work upon a final revise before sending it to the publishers. When the author discovered his loss he set resolutely to work to rewrite the missing chapters, and would probably have had the book ready but for serious delay in again collecting his data.

S. E. CASSINO & Co. have published "Botanical Micro-Chemistry," an introduction to the study of vegetable histology, prepared for the use of students by V. A. Poulsen, translated with the assistance of the author, and considerably enlarged by Wm. Trelease, professor in the University of Wisconsin. They have also ready the sixth part of "Standard Natural History," by Elliott Coues and J. S. Kingsley.

GINN, HEATH & Co. have ready this week "Modern French Readings," by Prof. Wm. J. Knapp; "Five-Place Logarithmic and Trigonometric Tables," by G. A. Wentworth and G. A. Hill; and "The Independent Music Reader and Hymn and Tune Book," bound together in one volume, forming an admirable collection of exercises, songs and hymns for grammar schools. They will publish shortly "A Sanscrit Reader," with vocabulary and notes, by Charles Rockwell Lanman, Professor of Sanscrit in Harvard University.

CUMMING & BRINKERHOFF, N. Y., announce "The Cumming Code," compiled on a new plan by a practical telegrapher to meet the wants of business men, who may desire a short, safe, and convenient, telegraph cipher code. It contains only words of ten letters or under (the cable limit), and of one to three syllables: all being familiar colloquial English expressions, and selected carefully in regard to their telegraphic, phonographic and chirographic relations to one another, so as to prevent blunders through the peculiarities of the "Morse" and English alphabets.

T. Y. CROWELL & Co. announce "Bryce's Pearl English Dictionary," containing about 15,000 words in 384 pages of clear pearl type, comprising besides the ordinary and newest words in the language, short explanations of a large number of scientific, philosophical, literary, and technical terms. The work is in small space, but sufficiently comprehensive for practical purposes. It is printed with red-line borders neatly bound in cloth and retails at 50 cents. They also announce two volumes entitled "Chips from Dickens" and "Chips from Thackeray," by Thomas Mason, which form part of a series called Chips from Standard Authors.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will issue next month a three-volume edition of the "Letters and Poems of John Keats," the poems occupying two volumes. The editor is a grandnephew of the poet, John Gilmer Speed, who is able to furnish hitherto unpublished letters to Keats's brother George, a resident of the United States. Mr. Speed contributes also an introduction. The text of the poems is Lord Houghton's, and his notes have been retained. A novelty will be the reproduction by Bien, in color, of oil portraits by Severn of the three brothers Keats; and there will be several other illustrations. The edition will be printed from type, and limited.

ESTES & LAURIAT have just published "Young Folks' History of the Civil War," by Mrs. C. Emma Cheney, a concise account of the late war, from the best authorities, fully illustrated with engravings, maps, and plans; also the third and concluding volume of "Young Folks' History of the Queens of England, from the Norman Conquest," founded on "Strickland's Queens of England," by Rosalie Kaufman. They announce that they have concluded to change the title of "The Young Folks' History of the Netherlands," to "History of the Netherlands," a step made necessary by the accumulation of abundant material for the production of a popular standard history of the country, which will supply a long felt need. It is written by Alexander Young, and will contain abundant illustrations.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have nearly ready "The Warden's Tale," and other poems, by Mrs. Bloomfield Moore, the well-known author of "Sensible Etiquette"; "Rosehurst," a novel, by Mrs. Annie L. Gilchrist; "Marah," a novel; "Hope's Heart Bells," a novel, by Mrs. S. L. Oberholtzer, author of "Violet Lee"; and a work entitled "The Lost Histories of America, or, the Zodiac shown to be an old terrestrial map in which the Atlantic Isle is delineated so that light can be thrown upon the obscure histories of the earthworks and ruined cities of America," by W. S. Brackett. They also announce a new revised and enlarged edition of Stillé's "Studies in Mediæval History." The new novel by the "Duchess" will be known by the name of "Rossmoyne," and will be equally as bright and clever as any of this author's works.

P. BLAKISTON, SON & Co. have now ready a work on "Sepulture: its History, Methods, and Sanitary Requisites," by Dr. Stephen Wickes, which, while giving a very interesting and full account of the subject in all its bearings, avoids any special reference to cremation; Watts's "Manual of Chemistry, Physical and Inorganic" (London edition), with colored plate of spectra, and 150 wood-engravings; also, the new (fifth) edition of Wilson's "Hand-Book of Hygiene and Sanitary Science," fully revised and considerably enlarged. On the first of December they will publish Merrill's "Digest of Materia Medica and Pharmacy," of importance and great interest to both druggists and physicians. Before January 1, 1884, will be ready a new "Directory of Physicians, Dentists, and Pharmacists of Philadelphia," which will contain also much information upon collateral matters that will prove of use to these professions. The form and size will be suitable for the pocket.

THE UNIVERSALIST PUB. HOUSE has published new editions of the works of Rev. J. D. Williamson, D.D., which have been out of print many years, at reduced prices. They comprise: "Argument for Christianity," a series of discourses; "Williamson's Exposition and Defence of Universalism"; "Endless Mercy Examined and Refuted"; "Sermons for Times and People"; and "Rudiments of Theological and Moral Scenes." There are also ready new editions of "The Ely and Thomas Discussion," a series of letters between Ezra Styles Ely, D.D., and Rev. Abel C. Thomas; "The Open Way," by George S. Weaver, D.D.; "Footprints Heavenlyward, or, Universalism the More Excellent Way," by Rev. M. J. Steere; "Universalism in Life and Doctrine, and its Superiority as a Practical Power," by E. G. Brooks, D.D.; also "Living Words," by E. H. Chapin, D.D., with introductory letter by Rev. T. Starr King, a volume containing some of the choicest sayings of this eminent divine.

THE CENTURY COMPANY has published a handsome volume edited by Alfred M. Mayer, on "Sport with Gun and Rod in American Woods and Waters." The nucleus of the book is the striking and popular series of sporting papers by experts which has been running for the past few years in Scribner's Monthly and the Century Magazine. The series has been very largely supplemented by additional matter, both in text and illustrations, of the same high class and authoritative nature, and no game of any importance in America is left undescribed. The ground covered extends from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Circle, and from the Atlantic coast to the mountains of the Sierra Nevada. There is even a little archæology in the volume, as far as relates to the hunting and fishing of primitive man, which gives a philosophical savor to the book. As to illustrations the work is handsomely and lavishly furnished. Some of the cuts are printed on Japan paper and have all the delicacy and accuracy of proofs. The binding is unique and artistic.

JAMES R. OSGOOD & Co. have published "The Course of Empire, being Outlines of the Chief Political Changes in the History of the World," by Charles Gardner Wheeler, arranged by centuries, with variorum illustrations, forming a valuable work of reference; "A Little Girl among the Old Masters," with an introduction and comment by W. D. Howells, a curious and entertaining series of sketches, with fifty illustrations; "Abelard and Heloise," a Mediæval romance, by Mrs. Abby Sage Richardson, in a handsome volume; and the Édition de Luxe of the "Works of James Abram Garfield," edited by Burke A. Hinsdale, President of Hiram College, in two handsome volumes, with new portraits. The edition is limited to 250 copies, each copy numbered, and registered. Messrs. Osgood announce that "the price of 'Nights with Uncle Remus' is $2 (not $1.50). The book greatly outgrew its original plan and contains double the amount of letterpress that is printed in 'Uncle Remus's' previous book."

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish at once "The Organs of Speech and their Application in the Formation of Articulate Sounds," by Georg Hermann von Meyer; and "Fallacies: A View of Logic from the Practical Side," by Mr. Alfred Sidgwick. Both volumes are additions to the International Scientific series. Mr. Sidgwick's book is an account of the methods of proof and disproof with special reference to their liability to error; dealing also with the dangers of misinterpretation and the difficulties involved in placing the burden of proof correctly. They have also nearly ready "An Illustrated Guide to Mexico for Tourists, Settlers, and Invalids," by Alfred R. Conkling; "Anecdotes of the Civil War," by Major-General E. D. Townsend; "Body and Will," an essay concerning will in its metaphysical, physiological, and pathological aspects, by Dr. Henry Maudsley; a new volume of Mr. Henry Abbey's poems entitled "The City of Success and Other Poems;" "English as She is Wrote," a companion volume to "English as She is Spoke;" a new edition of the little manual "Don't," in which is given a new chapter devoted particularly to women, which is now, by the way, selling into the thirty thousands, and Messrs. Dana and Johnson's selection of "Fifty Perfect Poems," issued in a new binding and containing some new illustrations. To the Parchment series will be added "The Book of Psalms" literally translated by the Rev. T. K. Cheyne; "The Vicar of Wakefield," with introduction and notes by Austin Dobson; "Selections from English Comic Dramatists," with critical notes and precis by Mr. Oswald Crawford, and the two final volumes of the parchment Shakespeare.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have published their illustrated holiday edition of Longfellow's dramatic poem, "Michael Angelo." It forms a quarto volume, and contains several portraits of Michael Angelo and Vittoria Colonna, and other illustrations which serve rather to depict scenes and incidents in the lives of Michael Angelo and Vittoria Colonna, than to make a merely pretty book. Therefore the volume has a decided value, besides being, as it is, a beautiful and artistic volume. All the details of manufacture, and a unique binding which is very attractive, can hardly fail to make this one of the most acceptable gift-books of the season. At the same time will appear Miss Jewett's new volume of stories, entitled "The Mate of the Daylight and Friends Ashore." Some of these stories are new, though most of them have appeared in magazines, where they have been received with great favor, as all Miss Jewett's delightful stories deserve; Oscar Fay Adams's "Hand-Book of English Authors," which is full of information concerning the English writers of any fame, giving just those prominent facts which all readers desire to learn quickly and easily; a new edition of the complete works of William H. Seward in five volumes, edited by Geo. E. Baker, containing a memoir and several portraits, and comprising Mr. Seward's speeches, addresses, messages, state papers, and discussing with remarkable wisdom and force the numerous important questions which arose during his public life; a "History of Georgia" from the earliest periods of its records until its organization as a State, by Col. Chas. C. Jones, of Augusta, Ga., a 2 vol. work with 19 full-page illustrations, and embracing in compact form the results of very careful and exhaustive research in the annals of that State; also, "The Book-Lover's Enchiridion," by Alexander Ireland, editor of the Manchester-Examiner, who has here gathered from the most famous authors of all time sentences which express the satisfaction and inspiration which books afford to genuine book-lovers. A large-paper edition of this latter work has been issued, of which a limited number of copies are for sale.

PROF. A. P. DE CANDOLLE offers a prize of 500 francs for the best monograph on a genus or family of plants. It will be open for competition until October 1, 1884. Papers, in Latin, French, German, English, or Italian should be sent to Prof. Alph. de Candolle, Geneva.

A CHANGE has been made in the publishing business of the late Mr. W. P. Nimmo, of Edinburgh, Mr. N. R. Mitchell, wholesale bookseller there, having joined the firm, which will be known in future under the designation of Nimmo, Hay & Mitchell, Mr. Hay having been for some time a partner in the business.

CHAPMAN & HALL will publish early in December a book on Egypt by Mr. A. M. Broadley, who was senior counsel for Arabi Pasha at his trial in Cairo. It will be entitled "How We Defended Arabi: A Story of Egypt and the Egyptians," and will contain, in addition to a full account of the proceedings which led to Arabi's exile, much new, interesting, and unpublished matter likely to throw important light on the history of Egypt during the past two years. The book will be illustrated by several portraits and engravings executed by Mr. Frederick Villiers, the well-known correspondent of the London Graphic in Egypt.

MACKENZIE WALLACE'S book on Egypt consists of his letters to The Times (London) rewritten and enlarged. It is described as an admirable summary of the present social, economical, and political condition of the country, including an impartial account of Arabi's movement, and a powerful argument against the withdrawal of England.

MACMILLAN & CO. have in press a volume on "Military Italy," by "An English Officer;" "Electricity and Magnetism, a popular treatise," by Amédée Quillemin; "A New Zoölogy," by Prof. T. J. Parker; and the "Bible Word Book," by Mr. W. Aldis Wright, a glossary of words and phrases in the authorized versions of the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer.

SAMPSON LOW & CO., London, announce the long-delayed "Life of Peter the Great," by the Hon. Eugene Schuyler; "Temples and Elephants," by Carl Bock, the author of "The Head-Hunters of Borneo," a book of exceptional interest; "Voyages of Discovery in the Arctic and Antarctic Seas, and Round the World," an account of an attempt to reach the poles, north and south, and of an open-boat expedition up Wellington Channel in search of Sir John Franklin, by Robert McCormick, the naturalist and geologist of the expedition; "Fifty Years of Concession to Ireland," by R. Barry O'Brien; "Ceylon in 1883," by John Ferguson; and "Early Experiences of Life in South Australia," by John W. Bull, who gives also in his volume an extended colonial history.

THE HISTORY OF PRUSSIA TO THE ACCESSION OF FREDERIC THE GREAT.

By HERBERT TUTTLE, A.M., Professor in Cornell University, author of "German Political Leaders," etc. 1 vol., crown 8vo, $2.25.

In this volume Mr. Tuttle traces the career of Prussia from the remotest records until Frederic the Great ascended the throne. It is not merely a history of the sovereigns and of the military operations in which Prussia was engaged, but of the people, of the development of its political, social, and religious institutions; and both in its design and in its execution it will take rank with the more important of modern historical works.

CHARACTERISTICS.

By A. P. RUSSELL, author of "Library Notes." 1 vol., 12mo, $2.

This book embodies, in essays grouped under various titles, the rich and diversified harvest gathered from many fields of literature. The illustrative extracts are well chosen from authors to whom the world is always glad to listen.

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE.

Riverside Edition. Edited by RICHARD GRANT WHITE. With Glossarial, Historical, and Explanatory Notes. In 6 vols., 8vo. Printed from the same plates as the three-volume edition, but on larger and heavier paper, and tastefully bound. Price, cloth, $15 a set, in box; half calf, $30.

An exceedingly handsome and every way desirable edition of Shakespeare.

EXCURSIONS OF AN EVOLUTIONIST.

By JOHN FISKE, author of "Cosmic Philosophy," "Myths and Myth-Makers," etc. 1 vol., 12mo, $2.

CONTENTS: Europe before the Arrival of Man; The Arrival of Man in Europe; Our Aryan Forefathers; What we Learn from Old Aryan Words; Was there a Primitive Mother Tongue? Sociology and Hero-Worship; Heroes of Industry; The Causes of Persecution; The Origins of Protestantism; The True Lesson of Protestantism; Evolution and Religion; The Meaning of Infancy; A Universe of Mind-Stuff: In Memoriam: Charles Darwin.

The variety, importance, and masterly treatment of these subjects make this a book of no ordinary value and interest.

AN AMBITIOUS WOMAN. A Novel.

By EDGAR FAWCETT, author of "A Hopeless Case," "A Gentleman of Leisure," etc. 1 vol., 12mo., $1.50.

The scene of this novel, as of Mr. Fawcett's previous stories, is New York City. The story has many fresh types of character, and, with Mr. Fawcett's familiar knowledge of New York society and his well-known literary skill, it cannot fail to be one of the most notable novels of the year. While appearing in the New York Sunday Tribune it attracted great interest and caused no little discussion.

ROBERTS BROTHERS, Boston.

BLANCHE W. HOWARD'S NEW NOVEL,
Guenn:

A WAVE ON THE BRETON COAST.

1 vol., 12mo, illustrated, . . . . . $1.75

The latest production of the popular and talented author of "Aunt Serena," and "One Summer." It is a tale of love and art, the scene being laid in Brittany, and the picturesque shores and no less picturesque people of this land of romance are vividly and graphically described. The many thousands of Miss Howard's admirers will be pleased to find, in this new volume, much of her choicest and most entertaining work, with an entire freshness of character and treatment, taking them, as she does, into scenes and combinations that are as novel and original in fiction as they are agreeable and fascinating.

The book is illustrated throughout with some forty vignettes, initials, etc., drawn expressly for it by a brilliant and skilful American artist.

Woods and Lakes of Maine:

A TRIP FROM MOOSEHEAD LAKE TO NEW BRUNSWICK IN A BIRCH-BARK CANOE.

To which are added some Indian place-names and their meanings, now first published. By LUCIUS L. HUBBARD, compiler of "Hubbard's Guide to Moosehead Lake and Northern Maine." New and original illustrations by Will L. Taylor, $3; half calf, $5.50; tree calf or antique morocco, $8.

A work of standard value as well as of picturesque and popular treatment. There are many choice full-page cuts made expressly for this book, and also a large number of smaller illustrations in the text. This is the first book in which the great northern park-region of New England has been treated in this manner, and the rare beauty of the illustrations will highly commend it to all lovers of nature.

English Rambles.

AND OTHER FUGITIVE PIECES IN PROSE AND VERSE.

By WILLIAM WINTER, author of "The Trip to England," etc. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

A charming collection of the later writings of Mr. Winter, including his very choice English letters, his essays on Longfellow, and several notable poems.

TREASURES NEW AND OLD.

By ALICE L. WILLIAMS. 54 full-page illustrations by Irene Jerome. Large 4to, 800 pages, cloth, gold and black, $6; full morocco, $10.

This volume is, as its title denotes, a treasury of the best thoughts of the noblest minds. It is the result of many years of extensive and careful reading of the best authors of ancient and modern times. Mrs. Williams has manifested most exquisite taste in her selections. She has been fortunate in securing many original gems of literary beauty that have never before been published, from such leaders of modern thought as Horatio Nelson Powers and Robert Collyer, and such poets as Lucy Larcom and C. E. Stedman. This volume is a golden granary of the finest wheat without any admixture of chaff. A thoughtful man possessing this book will not willingly part with it, for it not only possesses the choicest thoughts, but is provocative of thought of the highest order. All students, teachers, ministers, authors, and public speakers will find this "treasury" of invaluable worth. The fifty-four illustrations are worthy of the text, and higher praise could not be awarded the artist and engraver.

THE WESTMINSTER Sabbath-School Hymnal NOW READY.

IT IS PUBLISHED WITH MUSIC AT

35 Cents for Single Copies, or at rate of $30 per 100.

THE HYMNS ONLY

(without music) are in three styles of binding:

Strong Paper Covers, 10 Cents,

Boards, 15 Cents,

The favor with which the Hymnal has been received, and the warm commendation of it by competent judges, warrant the statement that the Board of Publication has succeeded in producing a book for Sabbath-school use which, both in the selection of the Hymns and the adaptation of the tunes, is a success, and which will give the Presbyterian Church its long-looked for Sabbath-school as well as Social-meeting Hymn-Book.

While avoiding too high a style, which renders some recent books unfit for general use, it is yet all that can be asked for in that line; and while giving a considerable number of the Standard Hymns of the Church, it also contains both Hymns and Tunes "lively" enough. Taken as a whole, our Church can safely be urged to examine and adopt this effort for the young, as it has the Hymnal for Church use. Sample copies sent by mail on receipt of 35 cents by

A NOTABLE BOOK.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH OUR DAUGHTERS?

SUPERFLUOUS WOMEN AND OTHER LECTURES.

By MRS. MARY A. LIVERMORE.

Handsomely bound, $1.25.

The subjects discussed in these forceful pages are of vast importance, and concern directly one-half the human family. No person can read Mrs. Livermore's terse, incisive and telling treatment of them without realizing the truism that "who educates a woman educates a race."

Mrs. Livermore's life-long interest in all that relates to women, and her honest desire to aid in the great movements that seek their advancement, will alone commend the volume to thousands of readers everywhere.

THE GOLDEN TRUTH SERIES.

A uniform edition of unequalled selections from the best religious authors. Edited by Mrs. C. M. MEANS. Dainty volumes, in gold and colors, each $1.25. Comprising—

GOLDEN TRUTHS.

LIVING THOUGHTS.

WORDS OF HOPE.

"Volumes of religious selections designed for the cheer and consolation of sorrowing friends. Sympathy for a friend in sorrow can be expressed in no more delicate or acceptable manner than by the presentation of these volumes."—Boston Post.

THE MODEL PRAYER.

A Course of Lectures on the Lord's Prayer. By the Rev. GEORGE C. BALDWIN, D.D. $1.25.

"The exposition is rich and exhaustive. One is left with the feeling that in this most simple of prayers are heights and depths still unexplored, while what is seen is calculated to increase devoutness as well as intelligence."—Christian Advocate, New York.

"WHAT OF THE UNSEEN WORLD BEYOND?"

THE GATES WIDE OPEN;

Or, Scenes in Another World. By GEORGE WOOD. New edition. $1.50.

"An intensely interesting work, which attempts to portray scenes in heaven. A careful perusal will give a more favorable impression than the hasty glance too often given to books of this character."—Congregational Quarterly.
